DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

2. Claims 1, 8-11, 16-18, and 21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Mustajarvi et al (US Patent 6,661,782 B1).

Regarding to claims 1, 11, and 18, Mustajarvi discloses an access system (fig. 1), comprising a plurality of mobile nodes MS and access nodes GGSN (fig. 1 col. 7 lines 53-59); a first gateway node SGSN for interfacing said access system with external networks 13 (fig. 1 col. 8 lines 1-6); a first mobility entity VLR which is associated with said first gateway node SGSN and arranged to provide macro mobility management services (i.e. location update or paging requests) to the mobile nodes MS while registered to a respective part of the access system (fig. 1 col. 8 lines 27-33), each mobile node MS being able to perform a macro mobility registration to the first mobility entity VLR over a respective dedicated access network connection established by opening an access network protocol context at a first access node GGSN and the first gateway node SGSN (fig. 1 col. 8 lines 34-41), the first gateway node being arranged to monitor the macro mobility registration (col. 9 lines 57-61; the SGSN monitor for change in routing information (registration) when MS move to new cell or new SGSN), to trigger a deletion of any access network protocol context which is no longer necessary on the basis of the result of the registration (col. 10 lines 30-34; when the MS move to a new SGSN, the old SGSN (first gateway node) deleted the MM and PDP contexts based on the registration message received from the HLR).

Regarding to claims 8, 10, and 16, Mustajarvi discloses the macro mobility management is Internet Protocol-type (col. 8 lines 42-47) and wherein said mobility entity associated with the gateway node is a foreign agent (col. 7 lines 27-33; the VLR acts as the foreign agent).

Regarding to claims 9 and 17, Mustajarvi discloses the access network protocol context is a packet protocol context (col. 34-41).

Regarding to claim 21, Mustajarvi discloses the gateway node can be integrated into the same physical node with said access node (col. 8 lines 50-51).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed April 19, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that the references fail to show certain features of applicant's invention, it is noted that the features upon which applicant relies (i.e., macro mobility management relates to a mobility management on a system level overlaying the mobility management of an access network (see page 5, paragraph 16, page 6, paragraph 26, lines 1-3); a mobility entity is an entity which provides a point of attachment on the macro mobility level, i.e., on the level overlaying the mobility management of an access network) are not recited in the rejected claim(s). Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993). Thus, Mustajarvi teaching of mobility management on the access network level read on the claim macro mobility management or macro mobility registration. Based on the reasons set forth here the rejections are maintained.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2-7, 12-15, and 19-20 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
